WESTERLY

Westerly, once the granite center of New England, has fallen far below its original standard in the production of granite, has lost its prestige and its title, but not in quality, and when the best granite is wanted for monumental or building work, Westerly still has the call. Interesting statistics on granite for building have been prepared by C. F. Loughlin under the direction of the United States geological survey, in co-operation with the National Building Granite Quarries association and the geological surveys of Rhode Island, Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

The total value of granite sold for building in 1917 was $2,831,125, a decrease of $1,053,205, or 27 per cent, compared with 1916. The rough stone sold was valued at $590,310, which is $121,738, or 17 per cent, less than in 1916; the dressed or manufactured stone was valued at $2,240,815, which is $779,555, or 25 per cent, less than in 1916. Accurate figures showing the quantities are not yet available, but owing to a general increase in the price of granite, the decrease in percentage of value was considerably more than that in quantity.

Sales of granite for building were reported from 23 states in 1917, compared with 25 in 1916. Massachusetts with a total value of $345,504 and Maine with $225,504 ranked first and second. New Hampshire second in rank in 1916, was third in 1917 with a value of $172,232.

Massachusetts with $132,700 and Maine with $100,541 are the only states whose sales of rough granite exceeded $100,000 in 1917, and each of these showed a decrease of about one-third compared with 1916. New Hampshire followed with $75,454, a gain of about one-quarter.

Harold R. W. Peterson, for several years dispatcher in Westerly for the Shore Line Electric Railway company, a thoroughly competent and courteous official, and deservingly popular with his associates, died early on Wednesday at his home in Ashaway of pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza, the prevailing epidemic. Mr. Peterson was formerly a conductor on the Norwalk and Westerly line and, in point of service, was the oldest employee of the company, engaged on that route, and was inspector prior to his death. In the trolley accident at Wheeler's crossing in North Stonington about ten years ago, when a freight car crashed into a passenger car, Mr. Peterson was conductor of the passenger car and was among the injured. He was in no way at fault for the mishap, remained with the company and received gradual and earned promotion.

Mr. Peterson was born in 1858 and spent the early portion of his life in White Rock, before his parents removed to Ponfick and then to Plainfield, Conn. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Vera Langworthy of Ashaway, and a daughter. He is also survived by his father, Samuel Peterson of Plainfield, three sisters, Miss Gerda Peterson visiting nurse at Mrs. and the Misses Edith and Ellen Peterson of Plainfield, and two brothers, Clinton and Philip Peterson. He was a member of Franklin lodge of Masons, from the home to the church and thence to the cemetery. The deceased leaves a widow and several children.

At the chapel service at Bawn university on Wednesday morning which marked the college year, President Bawn made an announcement that a member of the corporation had provided a fund ample to pay the faculty an increase of twenty per cent. during the present college year. REVEALING THE NEW AUTUMN FASHIONS IN ALL THE SPLENDOR OF THEIR NEWNESS.

In bringing together such a comprehensive assortment of Fall Apparel and Accessories we modestly claim a little more credit than usual.

But large assortments are here for your inspection and gratification. So we cordially invite you to come to our Fall Opening, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by a simple and effective method. In many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmin (Double Strength). Take this one and add to it a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.
